

Does the Breast-feeding Mother and the Pregnant Woman Have to Make-Up (al-Qadaa') for Missed Days of Ramadaan or Simply Feed (al-Fidyah) a Poor Person for Every Missed Day

Al-Haafith Ibn Katheer (Rahimahullaah) said:

"al-Bukhaaree (Rahimahullaah) narrated from 'Ataa (Rahimahullaah) that he heard Ibn 'Abbaas (radiyAllaahu an-huma) recite: '...And as for those who can fast with difficulty, (for example, an old man), they have (a choice, either to fast or) feed a needy person (miskeen) (for every day not fasted)...' Ibn 'Abbaas (radiyAllaahu an-huma) said: 'This is not abrogated [in the absolute sense]; rather, it is still applicable to the elderly man and the elderly woman who are only able to fast with difficulty. Hence, they may feed a needy person (miskeen) in place of each day (not fasted).' [Fath al-Baaree, 8/218]

"Likewise, the same has been narrated from a number of people, on the authority of Sa'eed ibn Jubair (Rahimahullaah), from Ibn 'Abbaas (radiyAllaahu an-huma).

"Hence, the summary of this matter is that the abrogation is confirmed concerning the one who is healthy and resident, making it obligatory upon him to fast [after it had originally been optional for such a person to fast or feed a poor person]....

"As for the elderly person, advanced in age, who is not able to fast (except with difficulty and hardship) – then, he has the right to break the fast [and instead feed a needy person for each day] and there is no obligation to make-up the missed days of fasting (i.e. al-Qadaa').

"This is because his condition is not such that he will eventually be able to make-up the missed days. Rather, it is obligatory upon him to expiate (i.e. al-Fidyah, the feeding of a needy person) for each day not fasted, as it was explained by Ibn 'Abbaas (radiyAllaahu an-huma) and others from among the early generations (as-Salaf)...This is also the saying of Ibn Mas'ood (radiyAllaahu an-hu) and other than him.

"This is also the chosen view of al-Bukhaaree (Rahimahullaah), who said: 'As for the elderly man, when he is unable to fast – then, (know that) Anas (radiyAllaahu an-hu) - for one or two years after getting old - fed a needy person bread and meat for each day, and broke the fast'.

"This matter [of Anas feeding a needy person for every day not fasted] which al-Bukhaaree (rahimahullaah) has mentioned here without a chain of narrators, has been reported with a chain of narrators by al-Haafith Abu Ya'laa al-Mawsulee (Rahimahullaah) in his 'Musnad' (collection of Hadeeth), on the authority of Ayyoob ibn Abi Tameemah (Rahimahullaah), who said: 'Anas (radiyAllaahu an-hu) became too weak to fast, so he prepared a pot of Thareed (a dish of sopped bread, meat and broth) and invited thirty (30) needy people, and fed them.'

Al-Haafith Ibn Katheer (Rahimahullaah) concludes by saying:

"And from that which comes under this same meaning (i.e. the same ruling as the elderly man and elderly woman) is the pregnant woman (Haamil) and the breast-feeding woman (Murdi'); if/when they fear harm to themselves or their child, they should only feed a needy person (i.e. al-Fidyah, for each day not fasted); and there is no obligation upon them to make-up (i.e. al-Qadaa' for the missed days of fasting)." [End of quote from 'Tafseer Ibn Katheer', Soorah al-Baqarah, 2:184]

Note:

It is reported from Ibn 'Abbaas (radiyAllahu an-huma) - concerning the Aa-yah: "...as for those who can fast with difficulty (e.g. an old man or woman) they have (a choice either to fast or) to feed a needy person (for every day missed)..." -- that he said: "Permission has been given to the elderly man and the elderly woman in this matter - while they might be able to fast (with difficulty) - to abstain from fasting, if they want to, and (instead) feed a needy person for each day (not fasted); and there is no *Qa-daa' (making up the missed days) required of them... And the pregnant woman and breast-feeding woman - if they have fear (of some harm from fasting) may abstain from fasting and feed a poor person for each day (not fasted)." [The Is-naad (chain of narrators) is Qa-wee (strong). Reported by al-Baihaqee (Rahimahullaah), 4/230]

Ibn 'Abbaas (radiyAllaahu an-huma) is also reported to have said: "If the pregnant woman fears for herself (some harm from fasting), or the breast-feeding woman (fears) for her child during Ramadaan (due to fasting), they may abstain from fasting and feed a poor person in place of every day (not fasted); and they are not required to make up for (the missed days of) fasting." [Reported by at-Tabaree (Rahimahullaah), no. 2758. Shaykh al-Albaanee (Rahimahullaah) said that it is Saheeh (authentic) according to the conditions (of authenticity) of Muslim. See: 'Irwaa' al-Ghaleel', 4/19]

It is reported from Naafi' (rahimahullaah, the Mawlaa and student of Ibn 'Umar, RadiyAllaahu an-humaa) that he said: "A daughter of Ibn `Umar was married to a man from the (tribe of) Quraish. She (the daughter of Ibn 'Umar) was pregnant and was struck by thirst during (the fast of) Ramadaan. So, Ibn `Umar (radiyAllaahu an-huma) ordered her to break (the fast) and feed a poor person for every day (not fasted)." [The Is-naad (chain of narrators) is Saheeh (authentic). Reported by ad-DarQutnee 2/207/15. See: 'Irwaa' al-Ghaleel', 4/20, by Shaykh al-Albaanee (Rahimahullaah)]
